FBI Arrests Waldo Boys For Bank Job

By DAVE ANDREWS

Two men wanted in connection with the $32,000 robbery of the Bank River State Bank were arrested by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents early this morning in a Greyhound bus station in Portland, Ore.

The FBI said the men were armed, but offered no resistance.

Held are Roy E. Waldo, 34, and Clarence Waldo, 30, brothers, both of the Flint area.

They were arrested at 5:30 a.m. (Pacific time).

Paul Stoddard, Detroit, FBI agent in charge, said the men are being held in custody of the U.S. Marshal in Portland, Ore. He said they will eventually be brought back to Michigan to face trial for bank robbery.

The Waldo brothers were scheduled to be arraigned this morning before a U. S. Commissioner in Portland. The FBI said there was no indication whether or not the men would waive extradition to Michigan.

The arrests were made on warrants issued by U.S. Commissioner Robert Bourdeau of Marquette.

Still at large is Robert D. Ross, 35, also of Flint, who was arrested once, escaped jail and was last reported earlier this week at Carthage, Mo.

Ross was charged as being the third man involved in the robbery of the Bank in a warrant issued by U.S. Commissioner John Erickson of Escanaba.

Details Slim

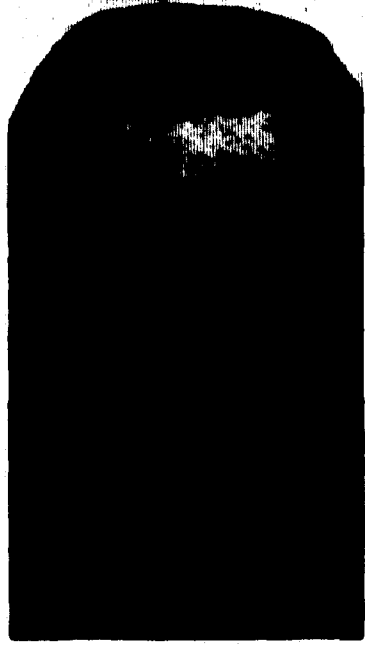

The FBI in Detroit said there were no details available on the capture of the men, or how information was received leading agents to the bus station in Portland.

A spokesman said, however, that a nationwide alert for the men was out and that bus stations, railroad depots and airline terminals all over the United States were being watched.

"This is standard procedure," he said.

It was not immediately determined whether or not the

Morse Wants Action Halting Airline Strike

Union Official Says Economic Pinch Is Felt

NEW YORK (AP) — Codfish and beans are back on the menu in one striker's household as a furloughed stewardess has taken a job in a chain school. But the economic squeeze on 66,000 out-of-work airlines employees seems to be tolerable so far.

Most workers, however, get down to the final dollars in their last pay envelope this week. There is unemployment insurance for furloughed employees, but the striking machinists must make do on $25 weekly union benefit checks or look for outside work.

Harry Rudolph, a union spokesman at New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport, said his members rode out the first two weeks of the strike, now in its 19th day, with money from their last regular pay period which ended July 15.

"They'll have to do a little belt tightening now," Rudolph said.

Evidence that the squeeze was beginning came from a wife of a Trans World Airlines machinist who joined other wives in a demonstration at the line's futuristic terminal at Kennedy Monday.

She said her family was eating "beans and codfish cakes" and that she was contemplating borrowing money to tide them over.

Take Other Jobs

In Miami, some machinists were reported to have taken temporary jobs, including tending luggage for the nonstriking lines, while a number of the women who clean planes in Los Angeles were doing housework in between their turns on the picket line.

The union is demanding wage increases of 33 cents per hour over a three-year contract from United, National, Northwest, Eastern and Trans World airlines.

Some Were Prepared

The lines say they have lost about $126 million in revenues since the strike began July 8 and that their employees have lost about $29 million in wages.

There were indications, however, that a number of the machinists were prepared financially for the strike.

Paul Coker, lead mechanic at TWA's Kansas City overhaul base, said: "We saw this thing coming months ago. Everybody started digging in right then."

Flying through low clouds and occasional thunderstorms, Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots racked up 71 missions Monday over North Viet Nam. They hit nine fuel dumps and assorted bridge, rail and supply targets that took them within 20 miles of Hanoi.

Pilots reported half a dozen surface-to-air missiles were sent up against them around Hanoi, but no American losses were reported.

The typhoon, whipping across the Gulf of Tonkin toward North Viet Nam and Communist China, sharply curtailed plane launchings from 7th Fleet carriers. Instead of its usual 40 to 50 missions, the Navy was able to send off only nine against the Communist North.

In South Viet Nam, U.S. and South Vietnamese pilots flew a total of 487 single-lane strikes despite bad weather over much of the area.

In the Mekong Delta 78 miles west of Saigon a South Vietnamese militia force of 30 men fought off three times that number of Viet Cong early today.

The Viet Cong called off the attack when a flare plane lit up the predawn darkness. The platoon defending the hamlet of Kien Phong sustained only a few casualties, a spokesman said.

AMELIA EARHART, above, famed 38-year-old aviatrix, was on a spying mission for the U. S. government when she disappeared somewhere in the Pacific in July, 1937, the Napa, Calif., Register says in a copyright story. She died of dysentery on the island of Saipan, the newspaper said, and soon after her navigator, Frederick J. Noonan, was beheaded. Their remains, the Register said, were recovered in Saipan in 1944 and secretly returned to America. (AP Wirephoto)

Amelia Earhart Died On U.S. Spy Mission Says Calif. Newsman

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Amelia Earhart, the aviatrix whose mysterious disappearance in the South Pacific gained her a place in American folk history, died as a U.S. spy on a Japanese-held island, according to a copyright newspaper story.

The Napa Register said Monday that the pioneer woman flier was captured by the Japanese on Saipan in 1937 while she completed an intelligence mission to inspect and photograph fortifications on Pacific islands.

Her body and that of navigator Frederick Noonan were secretly returned to the United States in 1944, according to the report. The newspaper said Miss Earhart died of dysentery and Noonan was beheaded.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said its files showed no evidence Miss Earhart was on an intelligence mission or that she was captured by the Japanese.

The official version of Miss Earhart's disappearance is that her plane apparently went down someplace between Lae, New Guinea, and Howland Island, on the first leg of a flight to Honolulu and Oakland, Calif.

The Register said it based its conclusion that Miss Earhart was on an espionage mission upon scrutiny of "classified files in the Department of the Navy and the Department of State."

The report cited "scores of natives" on the island who told newspaperman Frederick Goerner of radio station KCBS in San Francisco of a white man and woman being held captive by the Japanese. Goerner launched the investigation in 1969 and was joined by the Register three years ago.

One woman was quoted as saying: "The woman the Japanese called the flier died of dysentery. She could not be helped. The man who came to the island with her was executed several days after her death. The Japanese beheaded him with a Samurai sword."

According to the Register, two former U.S. Marines, Everett Henson Jr. of Sacramento, Calif., and Billy Burks, now living in Texas, found the remains of two bodies on the island in 1944.

When they asked a supervising officer "what are we looking for," the newspaper said, he replied, "Have you ever heard of Amelia Earhart?"

Hearing Today On Emergency Need For Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — His bid for jet-speed action stalled, Sen. Wayne Morse posted a new timetable today and said the Senate should act Wednesday on legislation designed to halt the airlines strike.

Under a measure proposed by the Oregon Democrat, the strikers would be ordered back to work for 180 days while a mediation panel seeks a permanent settlement. If there was none after 150 days, the mediators would report the deadlock to Congress and new action could be taken.

But first, the administration will have to convince the Senate Labor Committee that the strike has created an emergency warranting congressional intervention.

The committee scheduled a hearing on the strike situation and suggested the administration send spokesmen for the Defense, Commerce, Labor and Post Office departments to discuss the impact of the walkouts.

Representatives of the striking AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists and of the five struck airlines — Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United — also were asked to testify.

Hearing This Afternoon

The hearing was set for 1:30 p.m. EDT, on the 19th day of the strike which is costing the five airlines an estimated $7 million daily and their employees an estimated $1.6 million daily. The airlines say the strike has canceled 4,100 flights a day which normally carry about 154,000 passengers.

Morse said in an interview today's hearing "is to determine a question of fact: Is there an emergency to warrant emergency legislation?"

He said the answer is yes. And he added he fully expects an emergency declaration and strike-ending action.

"I am sure that the country will demand it," he said. His measure would have Congress declare that "emergency measures are essential" to end the strike in the interests of national health, safety and defense.

Negotiations Stalled With negotiations stalled and suspended, Morse said legislation now is the only way to get the airlines flying again.

The talks were in recess, subject to 30-minute recall to consider proposed legislation or any other avenue to a settlement.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has proposed a compulsory arbitration law for a binding settlement of up to three years, Union President P.L. Siemler said talk of such a law is spurring a flood of telegrams from strikers proposing "a massive march on Washington."

But he said he has no plans for such a protest march, at least for now.

Compulsory arbitration has been used only once in peacetime — in 1963 to avert a nationwide railroad strike.

The union is demanding wage increases of 33 cents per hour over the three-year period it wants covered by the contract. It also wants improved vacations, health benefits, pensions and a cost of living escalator wage clause, among other things.

Top-rated mechanics now get $3.52 an hour. The airlines' latest reported offer was 50 cents per hour for a 42-month contract.

Thieves Borrow Agency's Hoist To Heist Safe

TROY (AP) — Thieves borrowed an auto agency's hoist to heist its safe Monday.

They lifted the one-ton safe, containing $35,000 in cash and checks, onto a getaway truck with the aid of a hoist on an agency tow truck.

Commons Vote British Steel Nationalization

LONDON (AP) — The House of Commons voted approval Monday night of the Labor government's bill to nationalize Britain's steel industry as the Conservatives mounted an attack on Prime Minister Harold Wilson's handling of the national economy.

The measure, approved by a vote of 328-247 on its second reading, would nationalize the 4 big companies which supply 90 per cent of the nation's steel.

Final passage is expected late this year, although the Conservatives may try to delay it by pressing for a procedure that would permit each company involved to present testimony against the bill.

Anthony Barber, Conservative spokesman on steel, repeated the opposition argument that the bill is irrelevant to Britain's economic problems. Barber said the Conservatives would return steel to private ownership if they regain power. But he added a new qualification, saying they would drop state ownership "to whatever extent is necessary and practicable."

Argue Competition Need

Barber declared that Britain's steel industry needs more competition, not less. Power Minister Richard Marsh countered that steel exports and productivity have been on the decline while imports of raw materials have been going up. The only way to reverse this trend, he asserted, is for the government to take over and reorganize the industry.

Commons begins a two-day debate today on Britain's economic crisis based on a Conservative motion expressing no confidence in the government's ability. There was no likelihood that the Labor party's disgruntled left wing would desert the government to vote with the Conservatives and put Wilson out of office.

Seek Freeze Aid

More important to the future of Labor's austerity measures was the attitude of the Trades Union Congress toward the six-month wage freeze announced last week as part of the package to protect the pound by raising taxes and cutting government spending.

Wilson and Economics Minister George Brown pressed the TUC economic committee to knuckle under for the good of the country in a 90-minute meeting Monday night.

George Woodcock, TUC general secretary who has been skeptical of the freeze, told newsmen he thought some of the union leaders had been impressed by the talk. They scheduled another meeting with Wilson tonight to tell him their decision.

Union cooperation helped make the wage freeze of the 1940s effective and is equally vital to this one. The government plans to put teeth into it by legislating a six-month standstill period for all prospective boosts referred to the Prices and Incomes Board by official order. This could take in most major unions.

Civil Rights Bill Vote Delayed By Dixiecrats

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House plunges into a second day of discussion on the civil rights bill today with Southern Democrats vowing to do all in their power to delay a final vote.

The opponents' sickly unfurled their delaying tactics Monday when the House opened consideration of the compromise legislation. House leaders said they hoped to reach a final vote by the end of the week, but they weren't optimistic. Numerous amendments are pending.

The bill reached the House floor via a new rule which limits to 21 days the time the House Rules Committee can delay legislation approved by other committees. The motion to bypass the Rules Committee carried by a 200-180 vote, with 180 Democrats and 20 Republicans supporting it and 75 Democrats and 105 Republicans against it.

That was sufficient indication that more trouble lay ahead, since some members who voted for consideration may vote against the bill if it isn't changed to their liking.

Cong Step Up Activity:

Fire Mortars At US Command Post

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas stepped up their activities around Saigon again tonight, firing mortars at the command post of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division 18 miles northwest of the capital.

Elsewhere in the South, fighting slackened during the day, but U.S. airmen flew over typhoon rains and through monsoon rains to pound Communist targets north and south of the border.

The mortar shells started falling on the 25th Division base at Cu Chi shortly after sunset. There was no report of any casualties. First reports indicated that it was not a major attack but followed the pattern of other Viet Cong harassments on the doorsteps of Saigon in the past few days.

A division spokesman at Cu Chi, reached by telephone said the shelling lasted about 10 minutes.

"We are in counter-mortar phase now," he said, indicating 25th Division gunners were shelling Viet Cong mortar positions which had been located by electronic devices.

The spokesman said he had no report of casualties.

Heavy U.S. and allied artillery firing close to Saigon rattled windows in the capital.

The "harrassing and interdiction" barrages against Viet Cong positions have been stepped up in the past few nights as guerrillas have become more active.

The guerrillas struck nine times in the Saigon area Monday, shelling and machine-gunning government militia posts and a refugee relocation center.

Leave 736 Dead

More than 400 miles north of Saigon, U.S. Marines pursued the hunt for the battered survivors of the first full North Vietnamese division sent south, but made no contact with the slippery foe. Backtracking across the nearby 17th Parallel border or westward toward Laos, the Communists left behind 736 dead, the Marines reported. The battle debris and scarred terrain indicated the enemy toll may be far higher, officers said.

With most of the Hanoi regulars of Division 324B apparently back across the border or in flight toward Laos, Air Force B-52s flew over Typhoon Ora early today to bomb suspected Viet Cong jungle hideouts in the D Zone stronghold 80 miles northeast of Saigon.

Flying through low clouds and occasional thunderstorms, Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots racked up 71 missions Monday over North Viet Nam. They hit nine fuel dumps and assorted bridge, rail and supply targets that took them within 20 miles of Hanoi.

Pilots reported half a dozen surface-to-air missiles were sent up against them around Hanoi, but no American losses were reported.

Hit Ammo Dump

Marine pilots hit a suspected ammunition dump just north of the 17th Parallel on the Red supply route to the South. They reported 50 secondary explosions.

The typhoon, whipping across the Gulf of Tonkin toward North Viet Nam and Communist China, sharply curtailed plane launchings from 7th Fleet carriers. Instead of its usual 40 to 50 missions, the Navy was able to send off only nine against the Communist North.

ROY BABBITT, Manager of the Conservation Department's Fish Division staff inspects control structure at the recently completed northern pike spawning pond adjacent to Dana Lake in the Upper Peninsula. Dana County is about 15 miles south of Munising. Construction of the spawning pond was completed last week. The spawning pond is separated from the lake by a dam. A concrete structure will be planted in the pond before spawning season next year and after the eggs have been planted the fry will be allowed to grow to two or three inches in length. Control bars in the dam will be raised at small pike and adults will be planted into Dana Lake to begin sport fishing. If the pond contains more pike than are needed to stock Dana Lake, the excess will be planted in other Upper Peninsula lakes.

WORKERS PUMP water from Dana Lake into a new pond to test the dam for seepage. An old 50-horsepower outboard motor mounted on wooden structure is used to pump water into a 35-gallon barrel, to which is attached the canvas tube in foreground to pipe water into the pond. In the fall the pond will be drained and seeded with reed canary grass, needed for pike spawning. Pike eggs become attached to blades of grass and wind motion aerates the eggs and keeps them fertile. The pond will be refilled with runoff water.

New School Chief Looks Forward To Work Here

GLADSTONE — When Raymond L. Godmer began his work last week as successor to Hagle Quarnstrom as Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District superintendent, he had 19 school districts to worry about.

Today, after two reorganization proposals were approved by voters Monday, he has only 10.

How does he feel about losing nine districts in only a week?

"I think it's a step in the right direction," said Godmer. "I'm quite pleased for Hagle and for the committee which did all the work."

"The voters also should be congratulated for getting out and expressing their opinions on these proposals."

The election Monday joined the Manistique school district with Thompson, Hiawatha, Fairview, Doyle, Mueller and Germfask districts. Cooks, Garden, Fairbanks and Nahma districts were also consolidated.

Voters rejected the proposed merger of the Escanaba Area and Bark River-Harris districts and also the plan to merge Gladstone with Rapid River, Perkins, Rock, Flat Rock and Brampton.

Work To Assist

"Our work is now to assist the new districts that have been formed and also to work with the other districts to see what can be done toward providing a good education for all children," Godmer said.

"This is all new and different, but we're learning and looking forward to working with the people in the area."

Godmer said one of his prime goals is to promote better communications between school districts, his office and the media involved. He also said he plans to meet with all superintendents in the two-county area to see what their desires are.

Esby, Gladstone School Plans Rejected

Two Redistricting Votes Win; Two Fail

Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District voters on Monday approved two school district reorganization plans and defeated two others.

As indicated, Schoolcraft County voters approved a proposal to enlarge the Manistique City School District to include the townships of Doyle, Fairview, Germfask, Hiawatha, Mueller and Thompson. Only Manistique is a high school district now, the others send their high school students to Manistique, so the new arrangement merely formalizes an existing situation. The vote was 440 to 269.

The proposed so-called East Delta District was authorized by the voters of Fairbanks, Garden and Nahma Townships in Delta County and of Cooks in Schoolcraft County. At present all but Fairbanks are operating high schools. The vote was 324 to 132.

Escanaba Area
Escanaba Area School District voters rejected reorganization to include the Bark River-Harris District, 1,367 to 232. Surprisingly, even Bark River-Harris didn't vote for reorganization, it tied, 127-127.

In the fourth election the proposal to add many rural township districts and the Bark River-Harris, Flat Rock, Perkins, Brampton, Rapid River, Rock, East Delta and Manistique.

All the districts involved voted no. They include Gladstone, Baldwin (Perkins), Brampton, Flat Rock, Ensign and Rock, and the Rapid River District which includes Bay de Noc, Ensign, and Masonville townships.

Hagle Quarnstrom, retiring superintendent of the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate District, said that the voting Monday reduces the number of school districts in the two counties from 20 to 10. Strongly indicated are more consolidations to come.

Surviving Ten
Surviving school districts are: Escanaba Area, Gladstone, zation committees in the intermediate districts to advance the state's plan for consolidation of school districts. The committee proposed the reorganizations voted on Monday.

Escanaba Area Board of Education opposed the reorganization because it would have killed the district's present authorization for extra voted millage for operation if approved, and required a high school expansion program. Bark River declined to participate in the area district when it was being created in 1959. Annexation has been proposed as a more attractive means of merging the two districts than reorganization.

Hitchcock Hates Ketchup Sounds

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — As a lifelong dealer in nightmares, Alfred Hitchcock has a private terror of his own.
It isn't the sight of blood. It's the sound of ketchup.
"I want you to take this down carefully because it is of the utmost significance," said the partly mastic of filmed suspense as he forked the slender lamb chop huddled like a victim on his luncheon plate.
"The reason I hate ketchup is that it is connected with the most unpleasant sound in the world—the sound of a hand smashing the bottom of a ketchup bottle."
Blue Meal
"As a result of this sound, some horrible looking red goo slowly emerges from the neck of the bottle and lays itself over some perfectly innocent french fried potatoes, which never harmed anyone in their life."

Work, wine and food make up the wonderful world of Alfred Hitchcock, and he loves to discourse amiably about all three. One of his favorite dinners was an all-blue meal he threw as a practical joke for the late Gertrude Lawrence.
"I served blue soup, blue bread, blue trout, blue chicken and blue ice cream," he recalled fondly. "It was quite a success."

He has a private wine cellar of 4,000 bottles, including some going back to 1890 for which he has been offered $100 a bottle by other connoisseurs. He uncorks them sparingly because, as usual, he is having waistline trouble.
His weight, which has varied from 190 to 290, now hovers around 218.

"I believe that the real trouble with people like me is that we simply have too placid a temperament. We have insufficient internal jitters to burn up our food and drink."
"That's very healthy and should mean a long life." He reached over and knocked his knuckles on the wooden paneling. "It's better not to worry about unnecessary things."
The director is famed for his equanimity. Methodically, he sketches his scenes in advance, never raises his voice or bothers to look through a camera on set.

Of temperamental directors he remarked dryly: "All their drama is on the set and none on the screen."
This is a golden year for "Hitch," and filmdom is helping him celebrate it. It marks the completion of his 50th motion picture.
Hitchcock started as a $3.50 advertising layout artist for a London department store. His first job in the movies was writing titles in silent films. The first one he directed was "The Pleasure Garden," made in Munich in 1925.

Admiral Declares U.S. Can Destroy North Viet Nam

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—The commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet, Vice Adm. John J. Hyland, said that the United States has at its disposal a military force capable of totally destroying North Viet Nam "but our government does not have this policy now."
Hyland, whose carrier planes are bombing North Viet Nam daily, told a news conference that American air strikes on fuel depots near Hanoi and Haiphong "without question have hurt the enemy." But he said he didn't think U.S. planes would bomb Hanoi "for a long time to come."

President Johnson, the admiral said, is "interested in avoiding unnecessary casualties to civilians."

Menominee Dinner Meeting

Ruppe Address Set Saturday

Philip Ruppe, Republican candidate for Congress in the 11th District, will make his first major policy address in the U. P. Saturday night at the Falk Hotel, Menominee.

A group of citizens who have identified themselves with Ruppe and call themselves "Citizens for Ruppe" are inviting all interested people to attend a dinner meeting at the Falk. Reservations can be made in Menominee by calling 863-2507. This is also the Citizens for Ruppe headquarters. People in the mid-Menominee County area can call Stephenson, PL3-2337 for reservations.

Early reservations are requested. The dinner will cost $3.50 per person. Ruppe will speak at 8 o'clock for those people who cannot make the dinner meeting.

Ruppe's weekend will include participation in the Dairy Day picnic at Shaker Lakes Park on Saturday and the Blessing of the Fleet Sunday at 1:30 p.m. in Menominee Marina.

Phil Ruppe was born in Laurium 39 years ago. He lives in Houghton, where he is active in civic activities. He is a past president of the Copper Country Tourist Association, Houghton Chapter of Commerce, and Houghton Rotary Club and is a member of the VFW, American Legion, Elks, Eagles and Lions. Phil Ruppe is a Navy veteran having served as a seaman in 1944-46. He saw active duty in Korea where he was an officer in an anti-sub squadron. These service activities led to his interest in veteran affairs. He is chairman of the Advisory Council of Naval Affairs and chairman of the Houghton County Veterans Trust Fund.

Ruppe attended Central Michigan University, the University of Michigan and is a graduate of Yale University. He is married to the former Loretta Elizabeth Miller from Milwaukee. They reside in Houghton with their five daughters who range in age from 10 months to 7 years.

The FBI had previously received about $7,200 in cash and travelers checks from Ross when he was arrested in Superior, Wis. Officers believed the money was part of that taken in the robbery.

Ross was being held for trial on bank robbery charges in lieu of $30,000 bond when he saved his way out of the Douglas County jail with cellmate Jerome O'Neill, 24, of Superior. O'Neill was arrested in Missouri early Monday morning as he allegedly attempted to carry off furniture from a school into a car. A second man with him, who was identified by police as Ross, escaped.

Car Recovered

A 1966 Oldsmobile Toronado which was stolen in Superior, Wis., at the time of their escape from jail was recovered by Missouri authorities.

The robbery took place shortly before 3 p.m. on Monday, June 27.

Two men, both armed, entered the Bank River Bank and ordered four women employees into a vault. Cashier Loyal Hanson was ordered to open a smaller safe in another vault, then ushered into the vault with the women.

The two men cleaned out the cash drawer and fled in a 1966 Cadillac with their driver.

The getaway car was recovered at the Merrill, Wis., airport where a man, identified as Ross, chartered a plane to Minneapolis, Minn.

No trace of the Waldo brothers had been found before their arrest early this morning. FBI agents assumed, however, that they had been in the Portland area for some time.

GARY C. ERICKSON, son of Mrs. Ruth Hansen, 1116 S. 23rd St. and Clarence Erickson, 1705 Ludington St., is attending Yeoman Communications School at U. S. Naval Schools Command at Norfolk, Va. He graduated from Northern Michigan University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration, enlisted in the U. S. Navy and April 1 reported to the U. S. Naval Training Center at San Diego, Calif. for basic training. After graduating there he spent his leave with his parents until he left Escanaba to report to school July 5.

Senators Insist Ky Doesn't Speak For This Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield called on the administration today to "disassociate itself completely and at once" from the South Vietnamese premier's assertion that an invasion of North Viet Nam is needed for victory.

"To accept for ourselves a concept of this war such as that advanced by Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, would appear to be at the gravest variance with the interest and policies of the United States," Mansfield said.

Mansfield was immediately supported by the senators who heard his assertion. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., George D. Aiken, R-Vt., and Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass.

"It is high time Gen. Ky understood he doesn't speak for the United States," Javits said.

Ky expressed belief in an invasion in U.S. News and World Report that a military invasion of Communist North Viet Nam is needed for a complete victory and that it is better to fight the Communist Chinese now "than in five or ten years."

Cohodas Leadership Honored

Big Bay Camp Will Expand

BIG BAY — Directors of the Bay Cliff Health Camp have authorized its building committee to launch a $100,000 fund-raising campaign to construct three more buildings for handicapped children.

In annual meeting at the camp Saturday the directors approved the program after receiving a report on the need for the new structures by Sam Cohodas, Ishpeming, chairman of the committee for new buildings.

Cohodas pointed out that 32 dormitory units have been constructed at the camp over the past two years at a total cost of $128,000, all of it donated by individuals, organizations and business and industrial firms in the Upper Peninsula. Cohodas noted that 34 of the 48 banks in the Upper Peninsula have contributed to the Bay Cliff building program. The dormitory units were constructed by Ray Pajula, Ishpeming, at cost.

Buildings now needed for the camp, Cohodas said, are:

1. A structure to house children with more severe handicaps. It would accommodate 12 children and would have staff quarters, a play area and storage area for wheelchairs.

Health Cottage

2. A unit to house 20 children in the 3 to 8-year-old group and five staff members.

3. A health cottage, or camp infirmary, containing first aid room, isolation room, a ward, dental office and nurses' quarters.

In recognition of Cohodas' role in raising funds for the dormitory units, directors voted to name the proposed health cottage in his honor. He also was presented with a large, colored aerial view of the Bay Cliff grounds as a token of appreciation for his efforts for the camp.

The directors re-elected F. J. Haller, Ishpeming, and William Redman, Ishpeming, co-chairmen of the board and re-elected all members of the executive committee.

Dr. Fred Smith, dentist, reported that many of the 12 and 13-year-old handicapped children attending the camp had never been seen by a dentist before coming to the camp. He called this a problem of educating parents to be aware of the dental needs of their children.

Salary of the Bay Cliff dentist and two dental hygienists is paid by the Mott Foundation. The General Palsy Association pays the transportation of the dental staff to and from Big Bay, and the Michigan Dental Association pays costs of dental equipment.

Miss Triah Scott, staff member in charge of the hearing program and special activities, reported that 35 of the camp's 178 children have some hearing loss. Therapy includes lip reading, speech and language training and fitting for hearing aids.

Special activities include swimming, a recreation program, nature instruction period, arts and crafts and a teen center.

William Harding, occupational therapist, reported 50 of the campers have orthopedic problems, stemming from a wide variety of causes, including cerebral palsy, polio, muscular dystrophy, etc.

NMU Help

Douglas Olein, speech therapist, reported that 144 of the campers are working on speech problems (many children at the camp have multiple problems, such as speech and hearing, or speech and orthopedic). Olein pointed out that the only speech therapy that some of the children receive is while they are at camp.

He noted that Bay Cliff is affiliated with Northern Michigan

University and has 17 NMU speech correction students working at the camp this summer.

He said the affiliation was mutually beneficial, providing the camp with additional therapy workers and providing the students with "wide, varied and valuable experience."

John Vargo, Marquette, executive director of the camp, reported that Bay Cliff had the services of a psychologist for the first time this summer. He spent one week at the camp testing children and saw 18 children with emotional problems. Vargo said he was hopeful that psychological testing could become a permanent part of the camp program.

Costs Climb

Willard Cohodas, Ishpeming, a member of the Bay Cliff executive committee in charge of food for the camp, said the 178 children and 95 staff members this year represent the largest group ever served in the history of the camp. He pointed out that food costs have increased sharply this year to about 75 cents per person per day, largely because government surplus butter, cheese and meats are not available this year and have to be purchased.

The camp is operating for seven weeks this year — a week longer than usual. Anyone wishing to visit the camp was invited to do so. It will remain open until Aug. 14.

Haller introduced "three pioneers" who helped found Bay Cliff 33 years ago — Miss Elba Morse, Dr. Goldie Corneliuson and Miss Louise Steckney.

Needy Children To Splash In Military Pools

WASHINGTON (AP) — Needy youngsters soon will be splashing in 70 swimming pools at military bases across the nation.

The Pentagon has agreed to share the pools under a crash effort by the federal government to help cool off major metropolitan areas.

The Defense Department was enlisted in the new program by the Office of Economic Opportunity, which handles the government's antipoverty program.

The OEO said several cities were seeking additional recreational facilities "on an emergency basis immediately."

An OEO spokesman declined to say whether the campaign — also aimed at providing public and private pools and even sprinklers for fire hydrants — was calculated in part to ease racial tensions in some areas.

Gladstone Gets $4,000 Bequest

GLADSTONE—The City of Gladstone has received $4,000 from the estate of the late Ralph J. Rains, to be used "exclusively for public purposes for the benefit of local citizens." City Manager H. J. Henrikson, reported to the city commission Monday night. He read a letter on the subject from William Noreus, executor of the will of Mr. Rains, who operated a variety store in Gladstone.

The commission took under advisement means by which the money will be used and welcomes advice on the subject.

In other business the city manager was asked to obtain figures for repair of the lift station compressor.

Mayor Frank Stupak said he had contacted Senator Philip Hart's office by phone on the status of the EDA grant for the industrial park and was assured of information this week.

Bids for a blinker light at the entrance to the Gladstone Yacht Harbor will be opened at the next meeting and bids for repair to the Beach House on Aug. 22.

Street Program

Henrikson told the commission work has been completed on widening of M-35 and the installation of facilities at the Eaton Yale & Towne plant, freeing city crews to begin work on curbing and street repairs.

Hearing no objection to the abandonment of the unused street adjacent to the approach to the overpass on M-35, a request for abandonment was granted.

Peter Cannon, 1216 Dakota, asked action to maintain water pressure at Fernwood Cemetery. He was told the cost of extending city mains to the cemetery would be excessive. Residents on the bluff have their own wells. The city's planning engineers will be asked about best methods of solving the problem.

An opinion from the law firm of Strom, Hoenb & Shipman in regard to enforcing water safety regulations said the city may enforce regulations either through county authority or by local ordinance. A boating incident raised the question.

The commission considered the possibility of providing a second in command in event of the illness of the city manager, but Henrikson said the charter commission is making such provision in the proposed charter, which is well along toward completion. It will probably not be given to the public before spring to permit commission review.

Mayor Stupak told the commission that Wilderness Park is very popular and that he thinks development of a small beach area there has been a big factor. Commissioner Ray Norton questioned the advisability of an unguarded beach, but Stupak said it seemed to be a matter of survival for the park as tourists want the pleasure of swimming and boating at the campsite. He said more campsite facilities should be installed this year, if possible.

Cleveland Sets Riots Inquiry

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A grand jury opens an investigation today of the riots and fire bombing that caused widespread damage and left four persons dead in Negro slums on Cleveland's East Side last week.

Mayor Ralph S. Locher and Maj. Gen. Erwin Hostetler, Ohio National Guard commander, set another meeting to review the situation and decide whether to reduce the force of 1,750 guardsmen who, with police, continue to patrol the Hough area and adjacent districts.

In calling the special grand jury session Monday, Common Pleas Court Judge Thomas J. Parrino said: "The seeds of these riotous acts are found in grave social injustice. Poverty produces enormous frustration. Violence, however, does not remedy any problem. It cannot be condoned."

He said the grand jury, whose foreman is Louis B. Seltzer, former editor of the Cleveland Press, will seek to find the immediate cause of the violence, suggest remedies to community problems and take "appropriate action where evidence of unlawful acts is discovered."

Goethe Review Here Thursday

The regular session, Coffee and Books, a free public service offered by the Community College, will be offered on Thursday evening at 8 in the College Student Center. This week Robert DiGiovanni will discuss Faust, Part I, by Goethe (pronounced "Gurda"). The public is invited to participate in this and all the discussions on great books.

U.S. Exporters Have Big Stake In Newest Europe Farm Policies

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. exporters — and especially American farmers — have a big stake in the new farm policy hammered out by the six European Common Market nations. And the stake is how much will the price and subsidy paid out into the sizable market American farm products now enjoy in the West European bloc.

Products ranging all the way from meat to canned fruit juices from the United States are involved.

The six European nations are a big and growing market for food. There are some 180 million consumers in France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. The booming prosperity of these Common Market nations in recent years has raised personal incomes and consumption and upgraded tastes for new and imported foods.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says that last year U.S. exports of farm products to the six nations came to $1.5 billion. It may well be running ahead of that rate this year.

What worries American farmers is that the new pact drafted Sunday will raise prices on many food items produced in the Common Market. And this will boost the duty of American imports. On most farm products the Common Market uses a flexible tariff system geared to price differences. The duty is raised to take up the gap between world market prices, usually lower, and the Common Market farm prices, usually higher because of subsidies.

In most instances, the American farm products are priced lower than the European ones and face an already stiff import levy.

With any new hike in food prices in the Common Market, the duty on American footstuffs would rise. And the higher priced the American products thus become, the harder to sell them to the European consumer.

For U.S. exporters as a whole, the results of the Common Market farm pact will be more complicated.

Higher food prices for the 180 million Europeans, whether the food is grown locally or imported, mean less money left over to buy other imports.

But the final solution of the Common Market's toughest problem could open the way for a general tariff agreement, which has been hanging fire for several years.

SUSAN REGAL, although only 18, is a whirlwind equestrienne with the King Brothers Circus. Her parents were famous followers of the circus and she is pictured here with her brother, Fred, before she begins her act. The King Brothers Circus will show in Escanaba at the U. P. State Fairgrounds at 2 and 8 p.m. Thursday, July 28.

Circus To Show Here Thursday

The King Brothers Circus, pie with the circus. Each season more than 20 states are visited, with exhibits in 300 and evening performances at cities, frequently traveling from coast to coast. During the past year the circus exhibited in the far West including the Pacific Coast and the Canadian Northwest.

Floyd King, one of the brothers who established the circus in 1919 is still active in the management. The show represents an investment of $250,000 with a daily expense of thousands.

Showtime is 2 and 8 p.m. New acts and thrills are promised for the 1966 edition. Said a Circus spokesman, Sarah Wheeler, sensational Canadian star of the flying trapeze, the Roby Vanloos acrobats, the Canestrelli Troupe, Italian equilibrist, the Florenz gymnasts and a score of other acts are scheduled.

Why South Lost

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) —

The fishing boat Alafora recently netted two Civil War cannon balls dated 1862 in the Cape Fear River. A Navy demolition team will take charge of the cannon balls, which the Coast Guard says are probably filled with black powder and iron shot.

Noting that the cannon balls had not exploded, a Coast Guardsman with a decided Southern drawl, said "Maybe that's why we lost the Civil War."

Hare Appoints 'Ombudsman'

LANSING (AP) — Secretary of State James Hare has borrowed an idea from Sweden — appointment of an "ombudsman," a special deputy who handles complaints from citizens and employees.

Gordon Alexander, 26, of Lansing, received the appointment today. He will be one of five deputies to Hare.

Norway, Sweden and New Zealand use the ombudsman to cut through red tape in handling citizen complaints. The office carries broad investigatory powers.

Hare said he hoped Michigan would create a state ombudsman, one to handle complaints involving all state agencies. A bill to create such a position did not pass the Legislature at the last session.

Hare also announced the appointment of Walter C. Elliott, 51, of Detroit, as assistant secretary for urban affairs to work in the areas of ethnic, labor and human relations.

Cooking is Fun

CHOCOLATE COOKIES

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/4 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 envelopes no-melt chocolate
2 large eggs
2 1/2 cup unsalted regular flour (sift to aerate before measuring)
1/2 cup chopped (medium-fine) walnuts
Cream butter, sugar and vanilla. Add chocolate and beat to blend. Add eggs and beat to blend. Add flour and stir to blend. Stir in walnuts. Drop by level tablespoonfuls, a few inches apart, onto greased and floured cookie sheets. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 10 to 12 minutes. With a wide spatula remove to wire racks to cool. Store in tightly covered container. Makes about 4 dozen.

You can store extra ice cubes, if you need to, in your freezer. Just drop the cubes into one of those heavy clean bags used as liners for refuse cans.

Flake canned salmon and add to mashed potatoes; shape into patties; dip in slightly beaten egg and bread crumbs and fry until heated through and browned.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Micheau and their eldest son left for Texas Sunday for a vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Viacne, Detroit, returned to their home after spending the past five days at the home of Ed Waeghes. Mr. and Mrs. George Feyers of Harper Woods, Mich., also visited for five days.

Next time you are roasting a chicken without stuffing it, try sprinkling the inside with onion salt rather than plain salt. Good flavor!

Once again the gals are borrowing from the guys. Carnaby Street's in high gear, blazing the boldness of white-colored 'n' cuffed shirts teamed with a wild, wide tie.

Price Of Milk Up A Penny

MMPA Joining Federation

The price of milk has advanced in the Escanaba area in the course of a general advance in the state and the nation.

Milk went up here one cent a quart recently to 24 cents a quart and two cents a half gallon. Half gallons were 46 cents and are now 48 cents, average. Some market is slightly above and below that price.

In the Detroit area milk will go up a nickel on half gallons on Aug. 1 to 46 1/2 cents. The hike there follows a 14 per cent increase in the price of ice cream, cottage cheese and other dairy products in early July.

The price increases were in line with the trend to increase milk production by making dairying more profitable. Milk production has been slipping because farmers were turning to other more profitable activities.

Michigan Milk Producers Association, the bargaining agent for most milk producers in the Upper Peninsula and the Lower Peninsula raised the price of milk supplied to Lower Michigan dairies to $8.10 for hundredweight (48 1/2 quarts) from Aug. 1 to March 31. If market conditions remain about the same the pay price to farmers would be about $5.17 to $5.20 per hundredweight on most of the milk produced in this period compared with a base price of $4.75 per hundred in June.

President Glenn Lake of MMPA said the price increase is needed to encourage farmers to continue to produce milk.

Plush Bowling Centers Need More Patronage

EAST LANSING — Today's plush bowling centers are in trouble—million dollar trouble—unless they are able to attract new groups of patrons.

Principal bowler in America today is the married man in his twenties and thirties, and his percentage of the population is declining, said Dr. Bernard J. LaLonde of the Michigan State University Graduate School of Business Administration.

Teens, families, the housewife and the aged are new market potentials which must be explored, he told a Bowling Center Management Seminar, on the MSU campus recently.

He recommended concentration on the teen and sub-teen market, through family bowling, junior league bowling, student bowling and Scout or other club bowling.

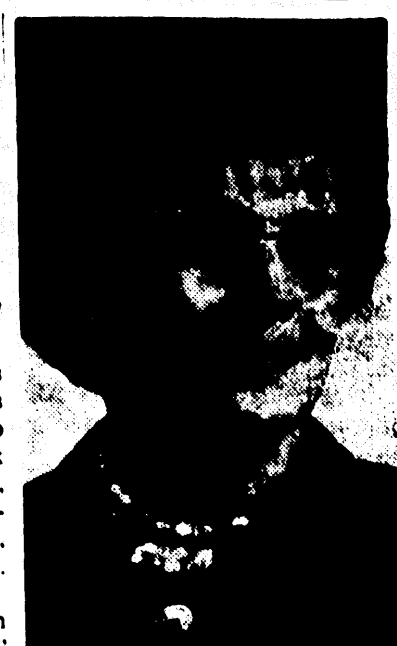

"If the individual has not become interested in bowling by the time he reaches his early twenties, the chances are he will not bowl at all," the marketing professor said.

There are 1,350 fewer dairy farmers serving Southern Michigan than a year ago and the dropoff of Michigan dairy farmers in a year and a half total 1,500.

Michigan Milk Producers have joined the Great Lakes Milk Marketing Federation to set the price for bottling milk in 6 federal order markets. Southern Michigan, Northeastern Ohio, Northwestern Ohio, Youngstown, O., Wheeling, W. Va., and Columbus, O.

"This is a new concept in milk producing by farmers," said Lake. "It will help avert milk shortages and give farmer cooperatives, united in the Federation, the ability to deal realistically and effectively with the giant dairy companies and food store chains which are the chief buyers of milk."

Cooperatives with about 20,000 members who produce and sell more than 6 billion pounds of milk a year make up the Great Lakes Federation. MMPA contributes 9,000 of the members and sales of about 2.8 billion pounds of milk a year in Lower Michigan.

MARTHA Zemke, counselor at Bay City's T. L. Handy High School, is the new president of the Michigan Education Association. A native of Vermontville, she holds bachelor and master's degrees from Western Michigan University and is president of the Bay City League of Women Voters.

Driver Dies On Mackinac Bridge

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—A Highland Park man died of an apparent heart attack Friday while driving on the Mackinac Bridge.

State Police reported that Russell D. McKeighen, 56, was headed north near the south bridge entrance when the seizure occurred.

The car jumped an 11 inch concrete barrier and crashed into a guard rail, officers said.

Gulf Bottom Life

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Havana radio, monitored here, said two scientists who lived for three days in an inflated chamber on the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico, returned safely to the surface.

West Virginia Mine Blast Fatal To Seven Miners

MOUNT HOPE, W. Va. (AP)—"The explosion was almost impossible to describe. It knocked me off my feet. We were lucky to get out, but when the mine reopened I'll be there."

With those words Hugh Garrett, 50, described the underground gas explosion at the Silix mine of New River Co. that killed seven miners here Saturday.

Two miners, one in serious condition, remain in Oak Hill Hospital near this small southern West Virginia community.

An investigation of the cause of the explosion was to begin today with United Mine Workers, company, federal and state representatives participating.

After the underground investigation, an official hearing will be conducted, and if all is satisfactory the mine will be reopened.

Several rescue workers were overcome by smoke and noxious fumes Saturday but were released after hospital treatment.

Some 20 other miners were working below at the time of the explosion. Most of them ran for the surface while others nearer the blast barricaded themselves against falling slate and fumes and then escaped.

Carol Ann Jolly, Richard Acker Wed

Carol Ann Jolly, daughter of Mrs. Acker Jolly and the late Alfred Jolly, 108 N. 5th St., Escanaba, Mich., and bridegroom Richard Acker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Acker, 220 S. 8th St., Escanaba, Mich., were united in marriage at 10:30 a.m. The double ring ceremony was officiated by Father Norbert Frieberg. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Arnold Delvaux.

Maid of honor was Sandra Lynch, Wells, and bridesmaids were Theresa Debelak, Danforth, and Susan Delvaux. Best man was Thomas Pinaut, Wells, and groomsmen were Fred Acker, brother of groom, Escanaba, and Harold Thindum, Wells. Usher was Donald Acker, brother of the groom, Escanaba. Flower girl was Sandy Acker, niece of the groom, Little Lake, Mich., and ring bearer was Ricky Sederberg, nephew of the groom, Racine, Wis.

The bride was attired in a floor-length gown of tulle nylon over satin with acetate and nylon lace and scalloped neckline. The chapel train was of nylon tulle with lace trim and formed a bustle for the reception. A crown of pearls and aqua held the three-tiered bouffant veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of pink sweethearts and a cascade of white mums.

The attendants wore empire bodices of peau de soie and floor-length skirts of chiffon over taffeta. Attached to the back was panel of peau de soie. The dresses were yellow, accented by yellow bow style headpieces which held a two-tiered veil of silk illusion. Their bouquets were of yellow roses and mums surrounded by white mums with yellow streamers.

The bride's mother wore a blue sheath dress with satin trim. The lace overcoat had a satin cowl collar. Her accessories were white. She wore a corsage of white carnations and pink sweethearts. The bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece tan linen suit with lace trim and tan accessories. Her corsage was white and blue carnations.

The reception was held at Eagles from 4 to 8 p.m. The dance was 9 o'clock to 1 a.m. with Beat Incorporated playing.

The couple will spend a week in Memphis before traveling to Florida where they will make their home in Jacksonville.

Outmoded Attitude On Women Employees Needs Change-Macy

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The extensive employment of women, both in government and in industry.

Macy said the Johnson administration has set a goal of placing many more women in supervisory federal jobs. He said more than 3,500 women were promoted to federal jobs paying $10,000 or more in 1964 and 1965.

Finely chopped cooked vegetables, mixed with mayonnaise, make an excellent stuffing for tomatoes that are to be served as a salad. Starting from the stem end of each tomato, cut in half.

It is so simple — maybe others do this all the time — but the idea just came to me. Busy Mother Of Four Macy, noting that women make up one-third of the nation's labor force, said, "The fact is that high levels of economic activity we now enjoy cannot be maintained without

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: To play safe when letting water run over contact lenses, place a piece of net in your wash basin.

This not only catches the falling lens but lets the water go down the drain.

I suggest that people with contact lenses try this, as many do go down the drain — both my girls lost one in this manner — which is rather expensive!

M. Hildebrand

Or, one could put the lens inside a piece of net and then wash it with the drain closed. You're a doll to help all us "four-eyes."

Heloise

Dear Heloise: May I submit my discovery of an inexpensive homemade type bacon broiler?

Eliminate the grease by using two foil pie plates (one with punctured holes set into or inside one without holes). Put your bacon on the top plate. This should be placed about six inches below the broiler and will produce delectable bacon. The excess grease will drop into the bottom pie tin.

So—don't discard those throw-away pie plates.

S. B. F.

Dear Heloise: I use vinegar on my wipe-up — the — spills — rag for my kitchen floor.

It doesn't affect the wax, but cleans even hard, gummy spots very well.

This way I can wax less often but still have a clean and shiny floor.

Mrs. Wm. Gilmore

True.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I dislike messy fingers very much, so I tried cleaning jelly and jam jars with a long — plate and bowl scraper.

Now I use it for peanut butter jars and shortening cans, too.

Roastee T.

Dear Heloise:

After snapping beans all morning for canning, I hit upon a timesaving answer which I thought I'd pass on to you.

I used my seasons! I can grab a handful of beans at a time, snap tips at each end and if I want to I can also cut the beans in half.

This is so simple — maybe others do this all the time — but the idea just came to me. Busy Mother Of Four

Child Safety Begins In The Home

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Ducky was always the boy in the neighborhood group who could be counted upon to (1) ram a twig in his eye, (2) fall out of a tree and break an arm, (3) fall down the basement stairs at least once a month.

Do you have a Ducky in your family? And can you encourage such a child to be more safety-prone?

According to a specialist in accident insurance and prevention, Ducky's scars could have been fewer.

"We have found," says Carroll J. McBride of the life and accident underwriting division of Travelers Insurance, "that many parents believe that home accidents are beyond their control. Our research has shown that this is not quite true." He cited drastic reduction of accidents due to industrial safety campaigns and school safety programs to prove his point. "If we could find a way of making more parents accident-conscious so that they enforce safety practices in the home, we are confident that the home accident statistics rate would be reduced drastically."

The grim statistic that bothers McBride and parents is that 70 per cent of the 16 million American children injured or killed in accidents last year were "at home."

Accidents claim more lives among children 1 to 14 than the combined devastation of cancer, congenital malformations, pneumonia, gastritis and enteritis and heart disease.

Infants too young to be warned about a safer approach to fun and games die from mechanical suffocation. This includes smothering in bed clothes or thin plastic materials. The urge for an infant to put anything he can into his mouth leads to hundreds of deaths as do fires, burns and falls.

Many more toddlers painfully survive pulling a pan of hot grease or boiling water off the stove onto themselves. Curious lads from 1 to 4 dart quickly into the street and their older, more daring sisters and brothers become prime victims of fatal automobile accidents while riding their bikes or running into the street during a ball game.

All hazards of living are just around the corner or across the room for any child. Yet, overprotection isn't the answer. Words of caution to youngsters and some reminders to parents to be alert to potential home dangers do help prevent many accidents.

(Clip and save the precautions listed here)

Safety Checklist

PREVENTING FALLS: Be sure all small rugs are skid-proof. Repair wobbly legs on all chairs, sofas, tables, beds and ladders. Mop up wet floors or spills immediately and use nonskid floor wax. Have well-lighted stairs, uncluttered and nonskid treads. Use barrier gates to keep toddlers from falling down stairs. Install grab bars in bathtub. Use nonskid mats in tub and shower.

HALTING FIRE ACCIDENTS: Have professional check of home wiring. Install inexpensive fire alarm system. Replace all frayed cords on electrical appliances. Protect open fireplaces with good fire screens. Never keep oily, paint-filled rags. Store inflammables in well-ventilated areas or throw away. Make sure no one smokes in bed.

PRECAUTION AGAINST POISONING: Store all cleaning agents, lye, weed killer, insecticides, drugs and medicines safely. Label all clearly. Study first aid techniques and keep manual in bathroom and kitchen where many children gulp down poisonous liquids and pills.

PREVENTING ELECTRIC SHOCKS: Urge children to dry hands thoroughly before touching any electrical connections. Keep all electrical devices away from bathtubs and sinks. Call an electrician to make repairs. Don't do it yourself.

PREVENTING SUFFOCATIONS: Keep bite-sized toys, pins, needles, nails and other small objects from small children. Avoid leaving the car motor running in a closed garage. Teach children not to play with stove knobs, especially gas. Throw away plastic garment bags not in use.

State Moves To Stop Discharge Of Raw Sewage

LANSING (AP)—In efforts to stop discharge of raw sewage into the Lake Huron-St. Clair River Basin, the State Water Resources Commission has called officials of 25 communities to appear at its July 28-29 meeting.

The communities are in eight counties: from Pontiac to St. Clair. They include some on the Saginaw River Basin and its tributaries.

To appear Thursday are the cities of Bay City, Escanaba, Frankenmuth, Saginaw, and Zionsville; villages of Breckenridge, St. Charles, and Milam; and townships of Buena Vista, Carrollton and Caldonia.

Friday appearances are scheduled for the villages of Elkton, Pigeon, Sebewing, Columbia, Birch Run and Unionville; and townships of Burtchville, Co. Cottrellville, Fort Gratiot, Ida, Kimball, Port Huron and St. Clair.

Representatives of the Michigan Producers Dairy Co. of Saginaw and active industries of Elkton have been scheduled to appear with officials of those villages at the meeting at Saginaw.

The commission said it also will consider adopting final orders regarding abatement of what it described as raw sewage discharges in the Grand River Basin by Alpine, Plainfield and DeWitt Townships and the village of Ovid.

If the orders are issued, it would be the first time the commission has taken such action under the new provisions in the water pollution control law.

Officials of Clare will be asked Thursday to show why the city should not be declared in default of a 1965 stipulation calling for the city to start building sewage treatment facilities by June 1, 1966.

The commission said after Clare received a federal construction grant, the federal government granted the city a 120-day extension beyond the July 8 date specified in the grant offer for beginning construction.

Health Service Study Funded

HOUGHTON — Michigan Technological University has received a $26,387 grant under Title I of the Higher Education Act to establish two health education programs.

The first, a community health education project, will provide a trained community health educator to work with the University, the Copper Country Health and Welfare Council, voluntary health agencies, public health and welfare agencies and governmental bodies at the village, city, township and county levels. A program will be developed in health education to meet health problems found in the Upper Peninsula.

The western part of the U. P., according to Gordon C. Smith, of Tech, has historically been plagued with multiple health problems. Death rates for some diseases in several U. P. counties are as much as three times higher than death rates for the same diseases in counties in the Lower Peninsula.

Smith said the reasons for this are low income of many families in the Copper Country; low educational attainment of many Copper Country residents and lack of programmed health education in the area.

The second project is an education program for department heads and supervisory personnel in hospitals, medical care facilities, nursing homes and homes for the aged.

It will provide increased knowledge of the medical care system and the role of various health care facilities in health care; increased knowledge of hospital organization; practice of managerial skills; consultation on managerial problems; framework of general managerial knowledge; and identification of the goals and policies of medical care facilities.

Tech will study and evaluate the program in order to provide advice to other groups contemplating any similar programs.

The project will be made available to supervisory levels in all facilities in the western half of the U. P.

Suit Claims Car Too Highpowered

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A $1 million damage suit against General Motors Corp. was filed in U.S. District Court Monday, alleging the company distributed a car too highpowered for public safety.

The suit was filed by William Marshall, of Princeton, an attorney for Philip Schemel, 21, Springfield, Ohio, Schemel, temporarily paralyzed from the neck down, seeks $500,000 punitive damages and $500,000 compensatory damages for injuries he allegedly received in an April 2, 1964, traffic accident in which a 1960 Chevrolet Impala going 115 miles an hour was involved.

The suit alleges that GM should have known that "some irresponsible" person might obtain the Impala and drive it so fast that unreasonable risk would be created.

First American school to adopt racing was Yale University, in 1843, with a dugout canoe.

Nat's Brother Fronts Trio

CHICAGO (AP)—As song man Fred Cole sees it: "Nat King Cole was a merry old soul and he had lots of personality. Yet I am not my brother, I'm me."

That's the gist of a song by Nat's younger brother, a congenial trio leader at 35. Fred Cole is getting his share of bookings around the nightclub circuit, but he refuses to sing a Nat Cole tune. (He never has.)

In the trio, Leo Mitchell handles the drums and Michael Fleming strums the bass while Fred plays a moody piano and vocalizes. His songs are mostly standards—"Tea for Two," "Bill Bailey"—and a few of his own, such as the "I'm not my brother, I'm me" ditty.

Fred looks a lot like Nat and his face, like Nat's, says "Take it easy, I'm a friendly guy."

His voice still lacks the depth and mellowness of the Nat Cole sound, except on an occasional drawn-out, raspy note. Perhaps Fred could come closer to duplicating his brother, but he doesn't want to. He wants to be Fred Cole, himself.

Between tours with the trio, Fred makes his home in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn. He was born in Chicago but grew up in Waukegan, Ill., 50 miles north of Chicago on Lake Michigan. As he remembers it, his singing debut was in the now-demolished Capitol Lounge in downtown Chicago in 1952.

This interview marked Fred's second stand in the Windy City. He was holding forth in the new Haymarket Room at the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

He isn't satisfied with his first record album and prefers to cite his second one, "I'm Not My Brother, I'm Me," under the small Tru-Glo-Town label.

Nat and Fred were very close, as Fred describes it. To

Viet War Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department Monday listed five Michigan men among latest casualties of the Viet Nam war.

Killed were:

Army Sgt. Meredith G. Hubbard, the son of Harry Hubbard Sr. of Detroit.

Army Sgt. Jarvis C. Lowder, husband of Thelma A. Lowder of Davisburg.

Marine Pfc. Theodore Gronowski Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Gronowski of Taylor.

Gifts Showered On 3 Millionth Straits Camper

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Vacationer James St. Clair of Columbus, Ohio, was greeted Monday as the three-millionth camper at Straits State Park here. Mayor Roy Bell welcomed St. Clair, his wife and their four children to the park in this city at the northern end of the Macinac Bridge in Upper Michigan. The chamber of commerce presented St. Clair, a research engineer with Battelle Industries of Columbus, with 20 gift certificates from local merchants.

Auto Industry Ending '66 Run

DETROIT (AP)—The U.S. auto industry headed into the final days of its 1966 model run this week with a small number of 1967's already showing up in production reports.

As of August 1, the only 1966 lines still in production will be the Mustang, Pontiac, Tempest and Cadillac. They will cease 1966 operations early in August.

Chrysler Corp. ended its 1966 work today as its St. Louis plant worked one extra day to make up for a July 13 shutdown prompted by hot weather.

Chrysler's total model year output came to 1,448,000 cars, a new high in the company's history. The old mark of 1,441,198 was set last year.

The continuing shutdown of 1966 production lines led observers to predict the 1966 model year would finish with about 8.6 million cars second to the all-time high of 8,849,032 posted in the 1965 run.

For the calendar year, output climbed to 3.3 million cars, compared with 3.7 million at this point a year ago.

Bank To Conduct Opinion Sampling

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A sampling of customer opinion on a variety of issues will be conducted beginning in September by the Union Bank & Trust Co. here.

A bank spokesman said ballot boxes will be located in the bank in which answers to questions will be deposited and tabulated monthly.

Typical of the questions to be asked are:

1. Do you believe that...
2. The United States is doing all it can to reach peace in Viet Nam?
3. Our draft procedure is equitable?
4. Grand Rapids needs a city income tax?

The questions, to be changed monthly, may provide guidelines to elected officials on public opinion, the bank said.

Air-Sea Force Pressing Hunt For Stilwell

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Pacific Ocean air-sea search for a missing C47 aircraft with Brig. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell Jr. aboard has expanded to cover an area of 105,000 square miles.

Stilwell, 54, commander of the U.S. Army's Green Beret troop training center, was copilot of the plane, en route to Thailand for use by that country's air force. The plane was last heard from early Sunday, about 500 miles out in the Pacific.

Stilwell intended to fly as far as Hawaii from San Francisco to increase his instrument rating as a flier.

The plane's pilot was Hal Grimes, 45, a personal friend of the general and president of Air Ferry International of Pacific Palisades, Calif.

Grimes radioed Sunday that one engine had failed and the plane was returning to San Francisco. A Coast Guard plane sent to accompany the crippled aircraft arrived two hours later but found no trace of the plane.

Two Coast Guard cutters, 20 land-based planes, three destroyers and the aircraft carrier Yorktown participated in the search Monday. A 70,000-square-mile area was checked visually and with radar.

His wife, who had accompanied him to San Francisco, waited at the Presidio Army base here for word of the search.

Their son, Capt. Joseph Warren Stilwell, is en route to duty in Viet Nam.

The Coast Guard said the C47, a type of plane which has survived many ocean ditchings, carried a 10-man life raft, flares and provisions.

Walt Watcher TOP's club will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at VFW Hall. Menus and fruit will be collected.

A traffic court summons for speeding has been issued by Escanaba police to Sanford C. Schultz, Cornell Rte. 1.

Peter Kling, serving with the First Battalion in Fourth Marine in Viet Nam, was recently promoted to Lance Corporal. He is a former news carrier for the Press.

Escanaba police received a report from John T. Kallman, 1719 Ludington St., of a loss of money in a bank pouch. There was about $200 in currency and change, plus credit cards and business receipts.

At the Delta County Sportsmen's Club committee meeting, preliminary plans for Open Field Day were set for July 31 at the Sportsmen's clubhouse. It will be open to the public. There will be skeet and trap shooting. A chicken dinner will be served and refreshments will be available throughout the day.

Heat, Fire Threat Eased By Rain

Rain accompanied by thunder and lightning dumped almost one-half inch of moisture in the Escanaba area Monday evening and broke a drought of several weeks.

The story was part of a pattern of disturbance that brought locally heavy rain to many areas across the Midwest.

At Escanaba, after an official high of 92 degrees on Monday, thunderheads began piling up in the northwest in the late afternoon to promise rain, which came about 6 o'clock. The mercury fell rapidly to a low of 59 last night.

The Weather Bureau reports that today will be partly cloudy and cooler than Monday, with a low of 64 predicted for tonight. The outlook for Wednesday is for possible thunder-showers.

Only Eased

The rain eased the tinder-dry forest fire danger in much of Northern Michigan—but fire protection authorities repeated the familiar warning, "Be careful with fire in the woods."

There was not sufficient rain to really end the threat, they pointed out. Grass and brush dry out quickly under hot sun and wind.

In Escanaba ahead of the rain on Monday firemen were called out to subdue a smoldering fire in sawdust pile on the north Bay Shore; to extinguish a grass and brush fire at the Frank Bender Sr. grounds at Danforth shortly after noon, and fire in grass and trash on 9th Ave. N. about 4 o'clock.

Another fire call to the Buck Inn north of Escanaba at 10:40 p. m. was not related to the storm, but was caused by a short in electric wires in the wall. There was slight damage.

Crops Damaged

There were prayers for rain in some churches in the area on Sunday, including Holy Family Church at Flat Rock where the prayers were repeated again Monday morning.

Farmers and gardeners were voicing fervent pleas of their own for rain, while thunderheads gathered in the sky each afternoon and then dispersed without delivering the promised precipitation.

Hay was being cut and baled throughout the area, but other farm crops were taking a licking as the hot, dry weather curled leaves and parched the plants. Potatoes rusted to the ground and corn rusted dry in the wind.

The Conservation Department recommended no burning permits for any but the most pressing cause, and counted up a growing acreage blackened by fires.

"More acreage has burned over so far this year than in any season in the past 15 years," said Kenneth Berg of the Escanaba District office of the Conservation Department.

Large Areas Burned

In the Newberry area last week fires burned over 223 acres. The area had 14 fires, including one that blackened 215 acres.

The Escanaba District had 16 fires, burning 25 acres, bringing the years total to 1,513 acres.

The Associated Press reports that powerful winds thundered

Soderman was ticketed for failure to yield the right-of-way. There were minor injuries and heavy damage to both cars.

The third accident was at 3:50 p. m. when Beatrice A. Stevens of Hibbing, Minn., going north on U. S. 2, slackened her speed to observe the previous accident. Peter VanHouten, of Grand Haven, Mich.,

also going north, failed to reduce speed as he turned to observe the accident and struck the rear of the Stevens car. Van Houten was ticketed for failure to stop. There were only minor injuries.

At 12:50 a. m. today at U. S. 2 and M-35 a car driven by Mary L. Anderson, 501 Montana Ave., Gladstone, was crossing M-35 going east and was struck by a car driven by Gene Verhamme, 581 N. 16th St., Gladstone, who was going north on U. S. 2. The accident is under investigation.

Mackinac Island Indian Project Gets Launched

By ROSE LACHAPPELLE

MACKINAC ISLAND — An authentic Indian handicraft sales project has been started for the Island's tourist trade, and is temporarily located on the Arnold boat dock, pending arrangements for a structure which meets city ordinance requirements.

The North American Indian Assn., buys handwork of Indians in the St. Ignace, St. Clair River Islands, and other areas of the state and obtains enough for a volume of $5,000 per year. The money is used for education of poor Indians.

The Arnold Transit Co. was contacted regarding possible location at Mackinac Island and in mid-May this year arrangements were made for a spot on Main St. Subsequently the stand had to be moved to comply with city ordinance.

Through Otto Lang, president of Arnold Transit Co. the sales stand was located indoors on the pier, with the Assn. paying a concession percentage on a sub-lease from a Mackinac City firm.

The Assn. feels sales would be greater if it were on the Main St. An effort to obtain the unoccupied police booth was not successful as the City Council felt other charitable groups could make similar requests.

Ruth Clark and Evangeline Horn, who operate a shop on Main St., protested the city's stand, citing that other types of business activity are carried on, without a building.

They wrote a letter to the editor of the "Town Crier," the Island's weekly newspaper, operated on an internship basis by the University of Michigan journalism school and have displayed in the window of their store a statement calling attention to the problem.

Mary DeGuvara, a Chippewa and Ottawa Indian who is a native of Potoskey operates the stand. Last year she was at Charlevoix, but she says there the man she worked for wanted her to put in Japanese import souvenirs. She said she would not have them on their stand, indicating the Association's authentic articles last longer.

Russ Wright, president of the North American Indian Assn., at a meeting with the City Council last week told of hopes next year to build a permanent structure, in wigwam shape with aluminum skin. The Island where restored Fort Mackinac and other historical restorations are available is attracting a record number of visitors. Reports are its patronage went from 200,000 to 600,000 visitors in the past six years.

Wright is reported scheduled to return to the Island this week for further conferences on the project.

Beads, baskets, bows and arrows, totem poles and other handmade articles are sold. Mrs. DeGuvara is in Indian costume at the stand.

A lady in a store where the matter was being discussed noted that because the articles are handmade and authentic Indian work, they sell for more and thus are not in competition with Japanese souvenirs.

PRODUCED THE EVIDENCE

MT. STERLING, Ky. (P) — Strange things have happened since Mt. Sterling adopted a law requiring a $7 windshield sticker for autos.

When residents change cars, they pay only $1 for a new sticker if they can produce a portion of the old one.

Recently, a woman showed up at City Hall carrying a large section of windshield to which the sticker was affixed.

Her old car had been wrecked and she couldn't remove the sticker, so brought along the whole works.

Big-Time Soccer Loop Planned In U.S. Cities

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — The United States, for years the odd man out, is about to catch up with the rest of the world and plunge into big-time soccer.

"Soccer has everything that Americans like in sport and I've no doubt that with the proper approach we can make it the big thing in America that it is everywhere else," Jim McGuire, president of the American Football Association, said Tuesday.

The kickoff is timed for the spring of 1968 with a league composed of teams from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, New York, Vancouver, Toronto, Boston and Philadelphia.

The 10 clubs completed their affiliation with the U.S. Football Association this month. Now they are shopping for players around the major European clubs.

McGuire, 56-year-old Scots-born real estate man from New York, emigrated to the United States with his family 40 years ago, returned at 20 to play for Glasgow Celtic and for five years was captain of Northampton Town in the English League. Now he is on the verge of seeing his dream of top-flight soccer in the United States fulfilled.

"We've finally induced big men in sports and entertainment to go ahead with soccer," he said.

"They're in it for a good hard-headed reason — to make money. Professional soccer has to be profitable if it is to flourish under American conditions, and I'm sure we can make it pay."

Seagull Racing Set Wednesday

Seagull class sailboats will continue the second series of races Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. off the mouth of the Escanaba Yacht Harbor.

Bill Boyce and Paul Nelson teamed to finish first in both races Sunday. Other crews and their finishes were: Walter Zimmerman and Henry Van-Brussel, second and third; Kent Anderson and Greg Johnson, third and second; Steve Maki and Randy Lark, fourth and fifth; Pete, Judy and Sue Boyce fifth and sixth; Skip Zimmerman and Tom Lewis, sixth and fourth; Dean Shipman and Harold Cloutier, seventh and seventh; Bill Moras and Jean Moore, eighth and eighth.

He explained that the 10 clubs will be closely linked with television — "and all sports on television have had explosive growth."

Sponsors, he said, were coming forward readily. Games will be televised only outside the cities where they are staged.

"We have the cities, and we have the people to give us a good public," he said.

McGuire said he believed the new league would expand to 16 cities within a year or two. Clubs meet Aug. 14 and 15 to decide conditions and pay for players.

Davis Out, AFL Picks Woodard

NEW YORK (AP) — Milt Woodard has taken over as the new president of the American Football League, succeeding Al Davis.

The 55-year-old Woodard, a native of Tacoma, Wash., stepped into the shoes of his old boss, Joe Foss, when the 37-year-old Davis quit Monday in a move that had been long rumored. Davis had replaced Foss as commissioner last April 6.

Davis' resignation had been expected since the recent merger of the AFL and the National Football League, effective in 1970. Davis had opposed the merger.

"I don't know what my position will be when the merger becomes effective in 1970," Woodard said. "That's up to the owners to decide. I have not yet actually signed my contract, but I believe it will be for at least three years."

"I couldn't turn down this opportunity," he added.

Woodard had been assistant to Foss until Davis took office. He went to Florida then on private business while retaining a part-time status with the AFL.

Under the terms of the AFL-NFL merger, Pete Rozelle, the NFL commissioner, will be the over-all boss.

CHARLES DILLON (Casey) Stengel, right, has a few words for his audience, as usual, as he and Ted Williams pose with their plaques that will hang in baseball's Hall of Fame. AP Wirephoto

Stengelese Oration Enthral's Hall Of Fame Day Audience

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Casey Stengel paused for a deep breath while Ted Williams leaned over to whisper in Joe Cronin's ear and laughed.

"I once hit against Walter Johnson," Stengel started up again while the record crowd of 6,000 soaked up every word at Cooper Park, behind the Hall of Fame building.

Stengel, 75, and Williams, 47, were being formally inducted into the Hall Monday and this quaint, historic community was bulging at the seams.

"It was after the season," Stengel went on. "I was hitting about third or fourth in the National League and thought I was some hitter. They had a special homecoming day for Johnson at Coffeyville (Kan.). They came out in buggies to watch Johnson pitch a 1-0 shutout."

"The next morning the Kansas City Star story read 'Casey Stengel's inability to hit in the pinches lost the game.' This is my home town, you know. I was supposed to be quite an athlete."

—football and basketball player.

Laughter Rolls

"There was only one fellow got on base all day — Pete Kilduff. So I told him 'You're to blame for the whole thing; if you hadn't got on base, I couldn't have failed to hit in the pinches.'"

The laughter rolled over the grassy plain and spilled into the shade trees on the fringes where some lucky people huddled to beat the heat.

Stengel's oration hit all the stops. He opened with Babe Ruth and worked his way through Grover Cleveland Alexander, Johnson, Joe McCarthy, Bill Terry, Joe Cronin, Joe Engel ("He'd trade a dog for a dog") and wound up with Bill Dickey, Yogi Berra, Williams and the Mets.

"That Williams would stare at a pitcher when he was warming up and he already had attacked that man. He was the most aggressive hitter I ever saw," Casey said. "After Bobby Doerr left the Red Sox, I told my Yankee pitchers never to throw the ball over the plate to Mr. Williams. We tried to get him to go for the ball but his judgment standing sideways was better than the umpires' standing straight."

Williams Says Thanks

Williams, wearing a neat white sport shirt, buttoned at the neck but with no tie, impressed the assemblage with his fine talk. He gently chided the writers with whom he often feuded and found time to thank his coach on the San Diego playgrounds, his school coach and managers under whom he played in the majors and minors.

He also singled out the late Eddie Collins, Hall of Famer, and owner Tom Yawkey of the Red Sox for special attention.

Ted put in a pitch for future Hall of Fame membership for Satchel Paige and Josh Gibson "as a symbol of the great Negro players that are not here only because they were not given a chance."

Williams obviously was impressed by the occasion, as was Stengel. Ted couldn't resist a jab at the press.

"I guess every player thinks about going into the Hall of Fame," he said. "I find it difficult to say what is really in my heart, but I know it's the greatest thrill of my life."

"I received 280 odd votes (282 of a possible 302) from the writers. I know I didn't have 280 close friends among the writers. I know they voted for me because they felt in their minds, and some in their hearts, that I rated it and I want to say to them 'thank you.' Thank you from the bottom of my heart."

CAB Probes Lema's Crash

LANSING, Ill. (AP) — A Civil Aeronautics Board investigating team searched today for new clues to the crash of a private plane that killed world golfing star Tony Lema, his wife and two other persons.

George Green, CAB field superintendent, said investigators were looking into the possibility of engine failure as the cause of the crash.

The twin-engine craft was en route to the Chicago-Hammond Airport from Akron, Ohio, where Lema had just completed play in the PGA tourney.

The pilot, Mrs. Doris Mullen, 42, of Joliet, Ill., and the copilot, Dr. George Bard, 41, of Kankakee Ill., also died when the small plane plunged into the ground at a golf course and burst into flames.

"We are going to look into reports from several sources," Green said Monday. "That there was trouble in the power system (engine). We don't have a weather problem or a darkness problem. So investigation may be made somewhat easier than some because we have a few things we can eliminate."

The pilot's husband, Dr. Willie Mullen was waiting at the airport. He and his wife were investors in the company that owned the plane, Mainline Aviation of Joliet.

Mullen said the plane made a swing around the field, with no indication of trouble, but one of both engines cut out as it glided low over the nearby golf course, then started briefly.

When the engines died the second time, the plane descended, swerved to avoid a group of people, struck the ground and bounced into the edge of lagoon where it exploded in flames.

The bodies of the Lemas were sent to their home town, San Leandro, Calif.

Ken Hruska, son of former Upper Peninsula golf champion Frank Hruska of Menominee, shattered the course record at Marquette Country Club with a five-under par 30. The previous record of 31 was shared by several golfers. Hruska fired five birdies and four pars, getting birdies on the last two holes.

Over 160 women are expected to attend the U. P. Ladies Invitational golf tournament over the same Marquette Country Club course Aug. 3. The group will be split into morning and afternoon pairings.

Joe Rose of Marquette was elected president of the Upper Peninsula Bowling Promoters' Association at the annual meeting at Sault Ste. Marie. Harold Kusie of Escanaba, manager of the Bowl-A-Rama, was chosen first vice president.

The Redback Archery Club of Escanaba will host an invitational shoot at the club range Sunday, Aug. 7. Competition will be over 36 targets. Entrants do not need to be members of a club to participate. Shooting begins at 10 a. m.

We missed the last week of Ron Smith piloted the first no-hitter of the Escanaba Softball Association. Last week, as his Flat Rock team battled Lakeland's 15-6. The only base-runner for Lakeland was awarded first base because of interference by Smith's catcher.

Northern Michigan University's football team will be forced to play the first half of its schedule this fall without versatile halfback Rob Lantzy, who aggravated a knee injury while playing in a summer recreation program at Harper Woods, his home. The Wildcats had counted on Lantzy this fall as a regular defensive back. He will undergo surgery to repair the damage.

The World's Log Rolling championship is scheduled again at Hayward, Wis., and entries include Don Jacobs, Escanaba, Jim Ogle, Marquette, and former Escanaban Mark Olson, Peoria, Ill. Jubel Wickham of Sooker, British Columbia, Canada, is defending champion.

Western Michigan's football team will move into Big Ten competition in 1975-76, meeting Minnesota twice in Minneapolis. Western plays in the Mid-America conference. Contracts for the dates are expected to be signed this summer.

NFL Roundup:

Bears Too Heavy, Studstill Leaves

By The Associated Press

Several rookies were cut by professional football clubs: several Chicago Bears were fined for not cutting — extra weight — and the Detroit Lions weren't being cut, they were walking away.

One of the biggest cuts Monday was George Sutor, a 6-foot-7, former LaSalle basketball player, who was released by the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

On the other end of the scale was 5-foot-10 Ken Lucas, former University of Pittsburgh quarterback, who was released by the NFL Pittsburgh Steelers because he had trouble seeing over big, on-running linemen.

Meanwhile, in the camp of the Chicago Bears, 12 players were fined $50 daily for being overweight and threatened with $200 fines starting next Sunday if they are not at playing weight.

"We are not making the progress expected at this stage of training camp," said Coach George Halas, one of the NFL's founders. "We are being that they are to pick up their held back principally by 12 soap at the home of Earl Du-overweight players. They are men, 1620 8th Ave. S., at 7:30 being fined $50 a day from July tonight."

22, but that is small consolation to the coaches."

The 12 players were not named.

Things were not well in the camp of the NFL Lions, either. Flanker Pat Studstill walked out of camp in a salary dispute, joining three other unsigned players who have refused to participate in practice sessions.

They are defensive end Darris McCord, offensive guard John Gordy and offensive tackle Ted Karris. Each is being fined $100 a day for missing training.

Ron Kramer and Bruce Mahler also still are unsigned by the Lions, but they have been taking part in drills.

Minor League

Due to the rain last night, all games scheduled for Monday will be played at a later date if they have a bearing on the league race. All Little League and Minor League players are reminded NFL's founders. "We are being that they are to pick up their held back principally by 12 soap at the home of Earl Du-overweight players. They are men, 1620 8th Ave. S., at 7:30 being fined $50 a day from July tonight."

Title Fight

LONDON (AP) — Emile Griffith of New York will defend his world middleweight boxing title against Nigeria's Dick Tiger in London Nov. 22, promoter Jack Solomons announced today.

Blitzen Reaches Mackinac First

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP) — Taking advantage of stiff breezes, defending champion Blitzen was the first boat to cross the finish line today in the 335-mile Chicago to Mackinac yacht race.

The 56-foot cutter, owned by Tom and Bill Schoendorf of Milwaukee, crossed the finish line here at 36 seconds past 12:07 EST. Its elapsed time was 57 hours, 52 minutes and 36 seconds. The corrected time was 55 hours, five minutes and 39 seconds.

It appeared that Matena, a 72-foot sloop, the largest boat in the 157-yacht fleet, would be the second craft across the finish line today. Matena, skippered by Charles Bassell of Grand Rapids, Mich., was more than an hour behind Blitzen when the latter finished.

Thunderstorms showered Lake Michigan Monday night, and a Coast Guard aircraft crew reported higher winds were scattering the fleet.

The boats Espro, Flame, Gypsy and Fatima were reported some distance behind Blitzen but ahead of the main body of sailing vessels.

Women's League Play Cancelled

The women's golf league of the Escanaba Country Club will not meet for either golf or supper Wednesday because of the Tri-Club pari-mutuel at the Highland Golf Club.

Regular league play Wednesday, Aug. 3, also has been cancelled because of the men's U. P. Golf Tournament.

Women are reminded the sign-up deadline for the U. P. Invitational Golf Tournament Aug. 3 at Marquette is Friday at the pro shop or with Gloria Hansley. Bridge players are welcome.

Marichal, Hero At Home, Not Popular With Bucs

By The Associated Press

Some of his more zealous fans at home say if he wanted to run, Juan Marichal could be elected president of the Dominican Republic.

Marichal, however, wouldn't win any popularity contest in the National League, especially with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

But then, neither would Herman Franks.

Franks and Marichal teamed up Monday and sparked the San Francisco Giants to a 2-1 victory over the first-place Pirates. The triumph moved the Giants to within two percentage points of the lead.

Marichal, the ace right-hander of the league, originally was scheduled to pitch against Philadelphia Sunday. But Giant Manager Franks decided to save him for the opener of the crucial three-game series with Pittsburgh.

Thus, the 28-year-old Dominican rested four days instead of three. The change didn't hurt him. He stopped the Pirates on six hits, halted Roberto Clemente's hitting streak at 17 games, didn't walk anyone and scored the eventual deciding run after an alert bit of base running.

Taken together, that gave Marichal his 16th victory against four defeats, his 16th complete game in 23 starts and an earned run average of 1.95.

Marichal also extended his walkless streak to none in the last 22 innings and now is averaging only one walk per game.

A guy can't become very popular with that kind of record.

In the only other NL games, Los Angeles downed Philadelphia 6-3 and New York triumphed Houston 6-4.

Cleveland defeated Washington 6-3 in the only American League game.

The Giants handed rookie Woody Fryman his fifth defeat against eight victories. They did it by scoring two runs in the third inning.

Ollie Brown singled and beat Fryman's throw to second on Marichal's sacrifice bunt. The Puentes followed with a single, driving in Brown, and when Fryman, backing up the plate, tried to get Puentes coming back to first, Marichal darted for third and made it. He then came home as Hal Lanier grounded into a double play.

The third-place Dodgers moved to within 1 1/2 games of the top by breaking a 3-3 tie with a three-run rally in the eighth. A. Ferrera singled across the first run. Dick Stuart the second and the third came across on Jim Gilliam's groundout. Short center honored for Los Angeles when Bill White and John Briggs connected for Philadelphia.

Pitcher Dennis Ribant stroked a two-run single that camouflaged a four-run outburst in the eighth inning and gave New York enough runs for its record fifth straight victory over Houston.

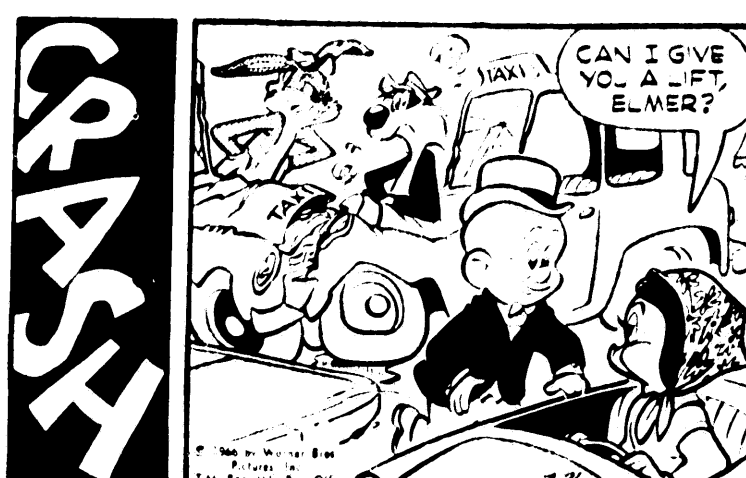

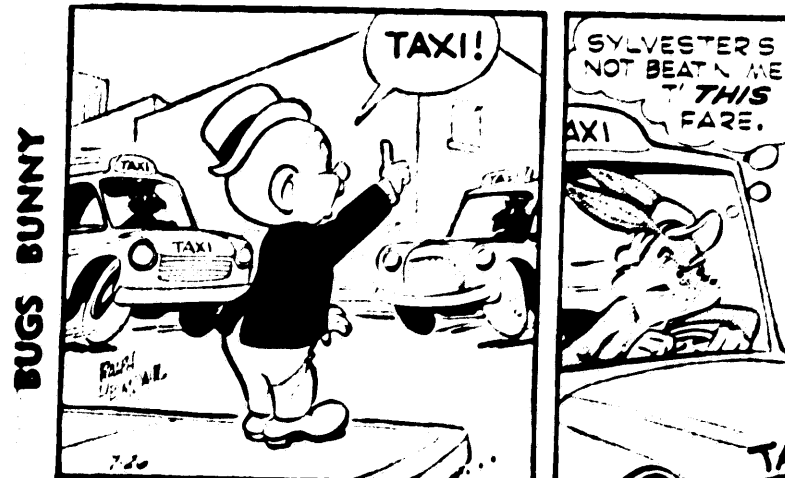

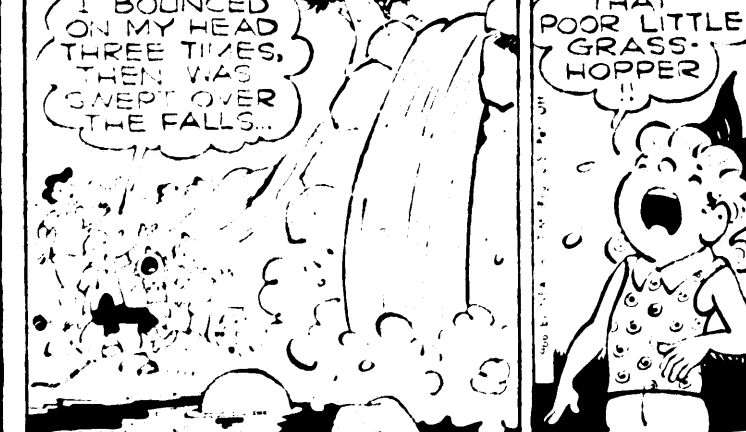

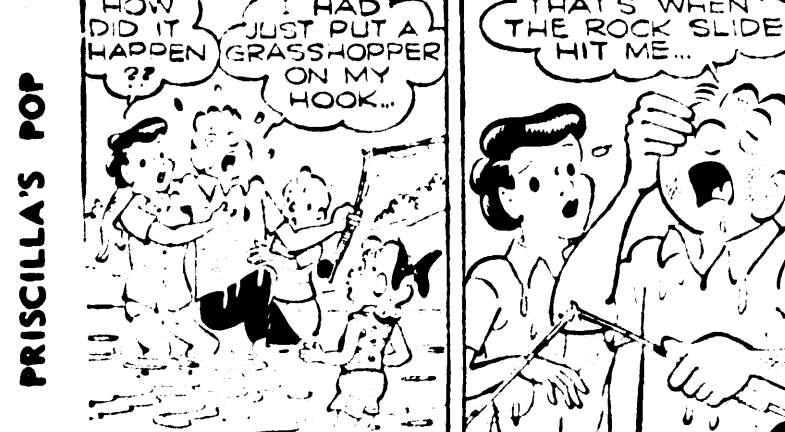

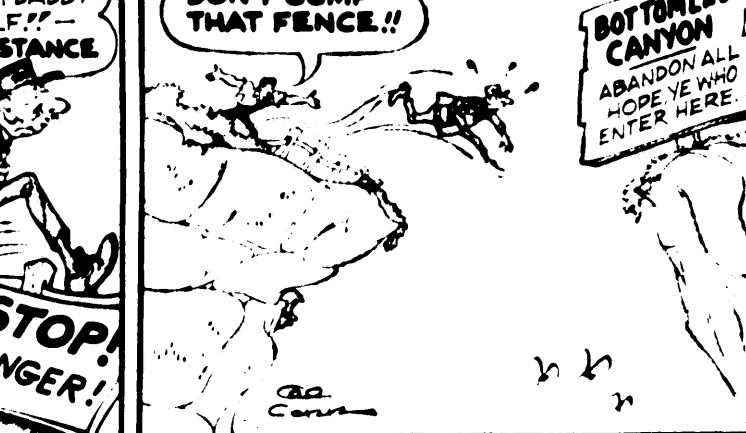

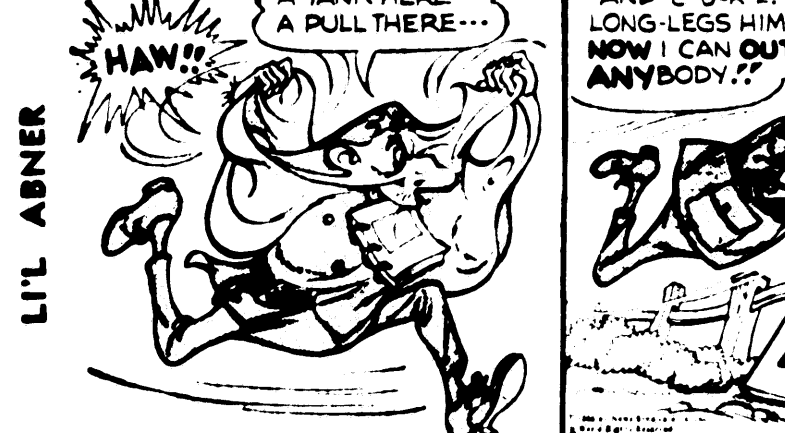

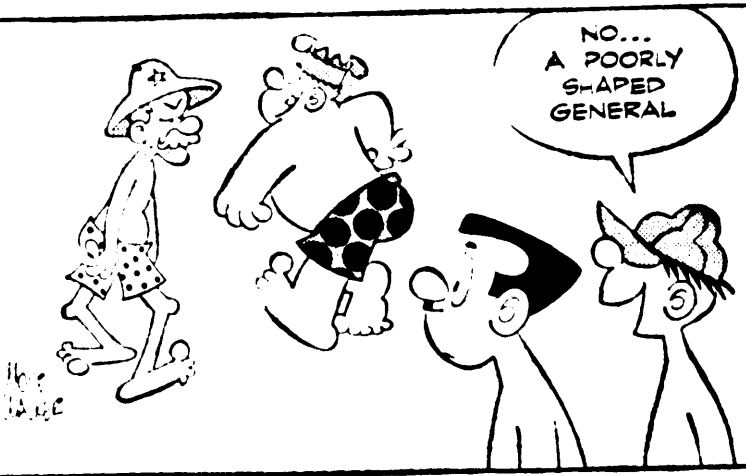

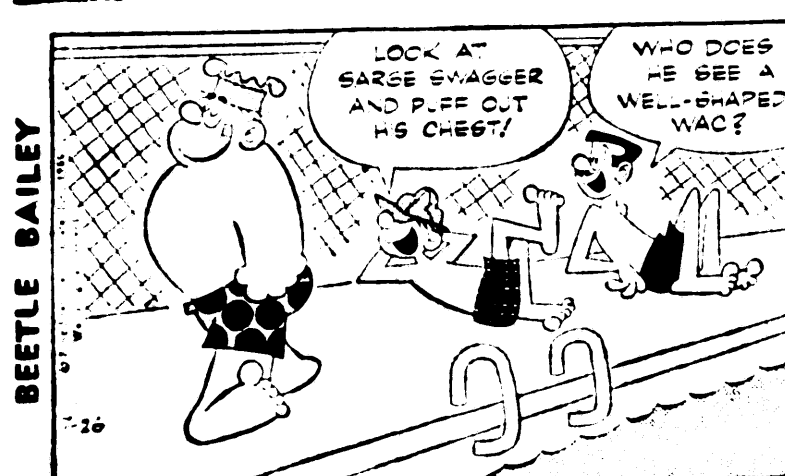

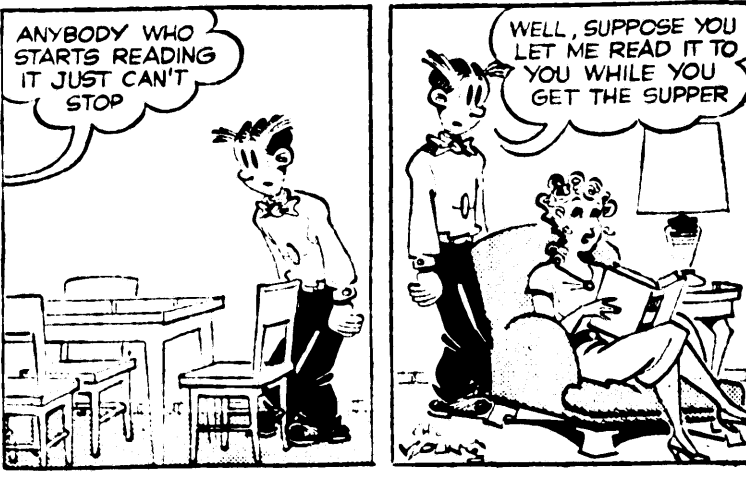

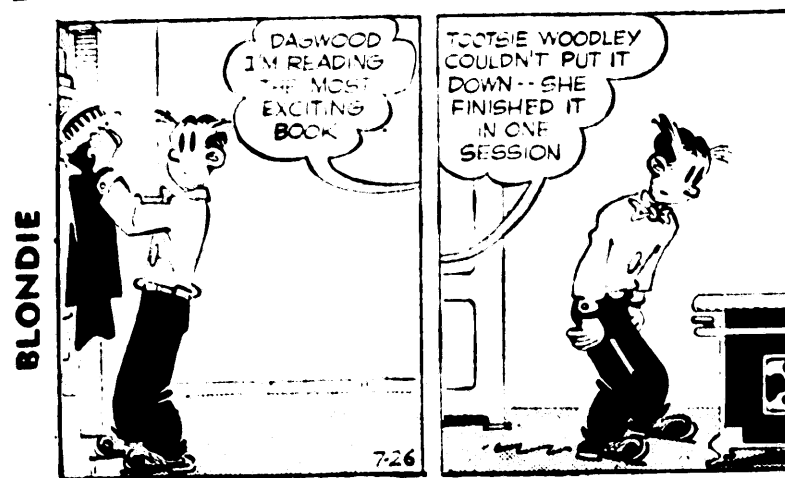

The Astros rallied for two runs in the bottom of the eighth with the help of a dropped fly ball by Billy Murphy and one in the ninth on Sonny Jackson's run-scoring single, but that's as close as they could come.

Cleveland's Fred Whitfield who "just goes up there and swings at anything that's moving" slugged his 17th and 18th homers in leading the Indians past Washington 6-3. Sonny Siebert went the distance for his 10th victory of the year.

TWO CAMPUS views of Batman: Cartoonists on college newspapers are irreverent, to say the least.

Dynamic Duo On Campus

Batman, Robin At College

By JOAN CROSSBY
NEW YORK (NEA) — He didn't pull up in the Batmobile, he didn't climb up the outside of the building, and he wasn't masked, but you could tell by the red patches of excitement on the cheeks of 10-year-old Bobby King that the good-looking, slight young man who got off the elevator was the Boy Wonder himself, Robin.

In an effort to learn what the fans of Batman, the ABC-TV series (in case you didn't know), really want to know, young Master King was recruited to conduct the interview.

"What kind of shoes do you and Batman wear when you climb up a wall?" he asked 20-year-old Burt Ward, who plays Robin.

"We don't really climb up the walls," Burt explained. "The walls are built at a 45-degree angle and the cameras are tilted at a 45-degree angle, and it looks as if we are climbing straight up."

"What do you do in the Batmobile if it rains?" Bobby asked.

"We slide a glass shield forward," Burt said.

Ward came to New York to work out a recording deal, to appear on the Merv Griffin Show (for which his father-in-law, Mort Lindsey, is musical director) and to rush from one interview to another.

"Holy Heart Attack," he was heard to exclaim, as he rushed out of his in-laws' New Jersey home.

"Our hours in Hollywood are unbelievable," Burt said. "We are at the studio from 7:30 a. m. to 9 or 10 at night. The hours are ridiculous and unbearable, but the work is fun. I tell people that we get up in the morning, go to the studio and put on our clothes to put on the world."

Burt, who is doing his first professional acting as Robin, and who is much better looking than he appears in his tights and mask, was raised in "the slums of Beverly Hills," and is really something of a Boy Wonder himself. He is a fine athlete, who has pitched several no-hit games in a Los Angeles Municipal League. He planned at first to be a professional golfer. In scholastic tests given at UCLA, he ranked in the top 30 per cent in the country in math and science. He is a speed reader with an authenticated record of reading 30,000 words a minute with 90 per cent retention.

Burt does his own stunts on Batman, he told Bobby, now fallen into silent adoration, and has nearly been killed five times. He has grown so blasé about the dangers he could only remember four of the times.

On the first day of shooting when we were racing the Batmobile out of the bat cave, we were zooming around a corner and the door on my side flew open. I didn't have a seat belt on, and those tights slip on leather. I just caught my finger on the gear shift in time to keep from being thrown out.

Then in that show with the Catwoman, I was really strapped only 13 feet over the tigers--and tigers can jump 20 feet. They had meat over my head to see that they were jumping, too.

One that really scared me was when they had us tied on gigantic wheels which were

Cornelius Ryan Believes History Needn't Be Dull

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) —
"There's no real history should be dull," says Cornelius Ryan, who has done as much as anyone to enliven the history of World War II.

Ryan is a ruddy-faced, voluble Irishman whose account of the invasion of Normandy, "The Longest Day," was an enormous success as a book and movie. Now an American citizen, he is hard at work converting his latest best-seller, "The Last Battle," into a screen play. The saga concerns the fall of Berlin and the end of the war.

"This is an enormous job," the author said as he surveyed the charts, photos and outlines that fill tables and walls of three MGM offices. "Right now I'm working with the producer, George Englund, to narrow down the story to a reasonable number of characters."

"A few stand out — the generals, Hitler, the milkman who continued his route as the city was falling, the zookeeper who tried to save the animals, etc. But how do you decide about the others?"

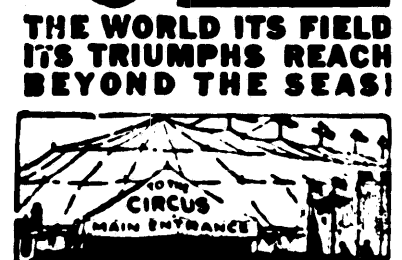

Ryan and his researchers contacted 3,000 persons during the eight-year preparation of "The Last Battle." The nature of the events makes the film a much more complicated story than "The Longest Day," for which Ryan also wrote the script.

"There you had an immense operation," said Ryan, "but it was centralized on one military maneuver. In 'The Last Battle' you have the whole arena of human tragedy and even insanity, as in the case of Hitler, who was dispatching orders to phantom armies that didn't exist."

"You have vast forces in the story — the Russians advancing from the east and the Allies from the west, plus the remnants of the German army. You also have the civilian population of a great city that was being crushed to the ground, plus the political aspects of the heads of state. It is an enormous panorama."
